

Observing . . .

to take notice - to take action

GFWC Virginia State Project 2012-2014

<https://www.facebook.com/GfvcVaStateProject>

As GFWC Virginia President I would like to share with you and the members of Virginia a love and passion that I have had all my life . . .

Enjoying the outdoors, our natural resources and learning conservation so that what we have today will still be there for generations to come.

The State Project Chairman will also be the Conservation Chairman since the two go hand in hand. This administration it will be our effort to educate, enlighten and provide materials, resources and ideas to our clubs for hands on projects to benefit their own communities.

We will be asking for them to identify a need or "just a want" along the lines of a Butterfly garden or frog pond at an Elementary school, a community vegetable garden, nature trails, dog watering stations along a walking path, benches for a park, and the list goes on. The clubs/districts can work on a project(s) individually, grouped or as a district. They will be strongly encouraged to work with and include youth to high school age children in every aspect of the project(s). This will be a strong criteria when judging comes around.

At the end of the administration they will report on the project(s) (reporting year 2013) to be judged. Criteria will include the scope of the project to the community, how many will benefit from it, did the club have other organizations such as Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, 4-H, FFA, children and parents, and other civic organization that were involved. A cash award for the top three clubs would be given at Convention 2014.