GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS OF VIRGINIA ANNUAL REPORT 2010

GFWC VIRGINIA PRESIDENT HOPE ROYER

"LET US TAKE TIME FOR ALL THINGS...."

...Collect For Clubwomen, Mary Stewart

Take time to celebrate the true, volunteer spirit of GFWC Virginia club women. 161 of the State's 196 clubs reported 597,729.5 volunteer hours on 9,612 programs/ projects; an average of 3,712 hours per reporting club. In spite of the decline in our membership numbers (from 6,313 to 5,930) and the stress of a difficult economy, reporting clubs contributed a total of $2,565,324.80, to include monetary donations of $1,528,539.70 and in kind service contributions of $1,036, 785.10. Imagine what the numbers would have been if all the clubs had found time to report!

GFWC Virginia clubs embraced GFWC's new concept of "Partnerships" and "Collaborations" and adjusted to the renamed Department/Community Service Programs. Financial support of identified GFWC Partners was especially strong in Home Life/Health and in International Outreach. (Contributions to GFWC Partners in those areas, alone, totaled $87,321.54.) Virginia clubwomen sought to identify, and provide for, specific, individual needs within their own communities. All Community Service Program Collaboration totals for programs/projects, hours and dollars exceeded Partnership totals. Clubs reported more projects in Home Life and Health than in other program areas.

No one will forget the magical moment in time at the 2010 State Convention when a fully equipped E450 Ford ambulance was presented to the First Responder Unit at Virginia Tech, marking the successful culmination of the 2008-2010 State Project.

"Take Time To Save A Child", the 2010-2012 State Project, fits well within the GFWC Signature Project goal of domestic violence awareness and prevention. Virginia clubs have joined with Prevent Child Abuse Virginia (PCAV) and its statewide affiliates in a proactive approach to child abuse prevention by providing "hands on" support and financial support where most needed, within their own communities. Clubs helped sponsor more than 20 Theater IV productions of "Hugs and Kisses" in their local school systems. Clubs sponsored "Books for Babies", pajama parties and toy, clothing and gift drives for local shelters and pediatric emergency rooms. Prevention literature was distributed in local doctors' offices, clinics and hospitals. Legislative advocacy was supported. Pinwheel jewelry was bought and sold. Pinwheel Gardens were planted in April in recognition of Child Abuse Prevention Month.

The GFWC Virginia Executive Committee and Executive Board met as required, post Convention and pre Conference, to facilitate necessary business and to provide guidance for the future time of the Virginia Federation. The continued diligence of the GFWC Virginia Standing and Special Committees also helped assure the future time of our organization. The Budget and Finance Committee met prior to all Executive Board Meetings and maintained constant communication to assure fiscal well being. The Endowment Fund reflected growth. The Strategic Planning Committee, new as a Standing Committee this administration, met regularly to implement a Pilot Study on Leadership at the district level. The Virginia Clubwoman Pilot Study Committee met regularly to implement directives. The Bylaws Committee met, discussed all proposed revisions as presented from the Executive Board and published amendments for approval.

It continues to be my privilege to serve as your President. I have represented GFWC Virginia at all meetings of the GFWC Executive Board. I attended the 2010 GFWC Convention in Omaha, Nebraska, and the 2010 Southeastern Region Meeting in White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia. My travels across the State, from one district to the next, visiting with Virginia club women remain the highlight of this first year. I celebrate the true, volunteer spirit in each of you and extend heartfelt appreciation to you for taking time for Federation.

GFWC VIRGINIA 3RD VICE PRESIDENT/
DIRECTOR OF JUNIOR CLUBS
LORI CHEVALIER

Together Everyone Achieves More

Wow, it is amazing to see all that the Junior clubs of Virginia have accomplished this past year; what an awesome team each club has been to their community. I hope this past year has been one that has you amazed at all you have accomplished as a club, district and state. The Junior clubs in 2010 collectively donated 63,709.25 hours on 1,598 projects and raised/donated $553,122.25. I am in awe of all you accomplish and am proud to be able to represent the junior membership of this federation. Can you imagine how much higher these numbers would be if every club had reported everything they actually did? Yes, Junior membership is down overall, and we lost several clubs; but many clubs saw an increase in membership.

The Junior membership supported a wide variety of projects in 2010. Members held fundraisers from catalog sales to bake sales and yard sales, Breakfasts with Santa and the Easter Bunny, Dinner Theaters, TV Auction, March of Ales, sold cookbooks, candles, and ornaments. Through these fundraisers and additional service projects, clubs were able to support organizations like Relay for Life, Operation Christmas Child, Operation Smile, Girls on the Run, victims of the earthquake in Haiti, UNICEF, HOBY, Salvation Army, Special Olympics, American Red Cross, March of Dimes, MADD and locally with scholarships, VFW, fire departments, schools, After Proms, senior centers, homeless shelters, local scouting troops, and our local military heroes. Clubs also supported their district projects.

Virginia's Junior membership supported the GFWC Signature Project - Domestic Violence Awareness, and the GFWC Virginia State Project – Take Time to Save a Child by volunteering 276 hours on 21 projects and donated $7,115 (monetary and in-kind). The figures for just the state project are: 4 projects, 64 hours and $2,119.85 in monetary donations.

Members also supported the GFWC Junior Special Project – Advocates for Children by volunteering 2,976 hours on 65 projects with $33,879 in monetary and in-kind donations.

Members continue to support our GFWC Virginia Junior Project – Camp Easter Seals UCP. The membership donated $2,155 in monetary support with 17 hours on 8 projects.

The Junior membership still realizes that they need to train their leaders and take care of their members. 233 projects/programs were completed for Leadership taking 12,625 hours and $17,488.58 spent in monetary and in-kind funds. Membership had 254 projects taking 5,078.5 hours with $19,440.87 spent in monetary and in-kind funds.

It has been my honor to represent the Juniors of GFWC Virginia at district, state, region and national meetings. I enjoyed visiting Alice Kyle, Lee and Southwestern districts, getting to meet members in their hometowns and hearing what wonderful things you are doing to better your communities. I share our amazing Junior accomplishments with the other state Directors of Junior Clubs as ideas for their junior clubs. Your accomplishments are also shared with GFWC.

Thank you for being the team players of this wonderful organization and sharing your experiences in Federation with others and increasing our team. As it states at the top of this page, when we work together as a team, we achieve much more than we can as individuals!

GFWC VIRGINIA
1ST VICE PRESIDENT/PRESIDENT ELECT –TERESA CRAIG
ASSISTANT JUNIOR DIRECTOR- JEANNE HAMBY

NASCAR is the leadership theme for this administration. “Pace Yourself” is our motto. We hope that you have and will continue to enjoy all our puns and play on words involving racing.

Recognizing the importance of leaders in our Federation, the focus for the 2010-2012 Administration is “Developing Tomorrows Leaders Today.” Focusing on members’ leadership abilities and qualities enables our membership to take the pole position and actively serve in various leadership positions. With all the leadership opportunities each member is sure to take the checkered flag as she chooses positions that best compliment the many demands & time constraints facing our membership.

As we catch the draft and maneuver through the experience of this past year, this Annual Report will reflect the duties and responsibilities of our elected office and the Leadership Program. 2010 started off planning and participating in the GFWC Virginia leadership Training Orientation for incoming district and state officers in March and the Leadership Training Orientation for GFWC Virginia Chairmen and Junior Chairmen in June. Updating the Leadership portion of the handbook and website was accomplished. A Leadership web page was developed for district First Vice Presidents to converse with each other and another web page for “Leadership Lucy” was developed for all GFWC Virginia members to ask questions about leadership and to provide leadership tips. We planned and participated for Conference including workshops in leadership and for our district counterparts. We attended all meetings for Executive Boards, Executive Committees, Budget & Finance and Endowment Committees and have written reports for Executive meetings. Two articles were submitted for The Virginia Clubwoman; maintained both leadership web pages; gave club/district leadership workshops; installed new club officers; attended Southeastern Region Meeting; GFWC LEADS, HOBY and the Jeannie Award were well publicized and GFWC Virginia LEADS has been planned and organized by Jeanne for August of 2011. As we put the pedal to the metal and race off for the next big event, we welcome this opportunity to serve you.

GFWC 2ND VICE PRESIDENT-
WANDA BURLEY

GFWC Virginia recognized club’s efforts in membership recruitment and retention at the 2010 GFWC Virginia Convention. Members who had received silver or gold membership pins were recognized, clubs were presented Anniversary Certificates, and top recruiters from each district as well as those who received one of the “star” levels were recognized. Club charters were presented to four new clubs: GFWC Ashburn Area Woman’s Club, GFWC Charlotte County Woman’s Club, GFWC Pearisburg Juniores, and GFWC Peninsula Juniores. GFWC Virginia also supported clubs with their membership efforts by making Club Membership Grants available to assist with their recruitment and retention efforts.

GFWC Virginia members are our “Timeless Treasures”. Clubs have been participating in the GFWC Seasonal Recruitment Campaign and the GFWC Virginia Recruitment Program. As of February 1, 2011, forty-two clubs reported a net gain in membership in 2010. In 2010, GFWC Virginia clubs reported 3,730 members spent 33,754 volunteer hours and $78,777.37 on 905 membership projects.

This officer met with the District 2nd Vice-Presidents / Membership Chairmen at the GFWC Virginia Orientation. Our membership team reviewed objectives and set goals for the upcoming administration. In June this officer participated in the Chairman’s Workshop for GFWC Virginia Chairmen. The Membership Section of the 2010-2012 GFWC Virginia Yearbook was reviewed and updated as were membership pages on the GFWC Virginia website and the New Club Kit. This officer and your GFWC Virginia Junior Membership Chairman, Trish Edwards, presented two workshops at the GFWC Virginia Conference in August.

During the past year, I attended GFWC Virginia Executive Board Meetings as well as meetings of the GFWC Virginia Budget and Finance Committee, Endowment Fund Committee, and Strategic Planning Committee. I also attended the Southeastern Region Meeting in West Virginia. I have submitted three articles to The Virginia Clubwoman. The District Second Vice Presidents have forwarded Timeless Treasures coupons for new members; the information has been recorded and welcome letters have been sent to our new Timeless Treasures.

As many of our clubs have demonstrated in 2010, it is definitely possible to see our clubs grow. At times, we see membership retention and recruitment as a challenge; we must inspire our members to become excited about club activities and our Federation. Work with your Federation friends on your membership projects; take time to recognize the efforts of your members and celebrate your successes!

GFWC VIRGINIA SECRETARY
FRAN EDWARDS
SALLY ANNE LAIR, JUNIOR SECRETARY

In the year since being installed as GFWC Virginia Secretary, this officer has learned quite a bit. Minutes have been taken and filed for Conference and Convention as well as all Board Meetings. In addition, minutes have been kept for both Budget & Finance Committee and Endowment Committee meetings. This position has developed my note taking techniques, honed my organizational skills, revived my writing skills, and provided plenty of fellowship and fun.

Sally Lair, Junior Secretary/Treasurer has also been busy as she recorded the minutes for Junior Board Meetings as well as Junior Business Meetings.

Prior to installation, Sally and I held orientation for District Secretaries and Junior Secretaries including a session on Leadership styles. We then reconvened with our district counterparts at Conference to answer any questions and refresh the skills discussed earlier. We have included articles in the Virginia Clubwoman magazine and corresponded with district secretaries.

Both Sally and I are honored to have been given the opportunity to serve the Virginia Federation in our respective positions. We look forward to another year of service, fun, learning, and fellowship.

GFWC VIRGINIA TREASURER
MARTHA MATTHEWS
SALLY ANNE LAIR, JUNIOR TREASURER

We are certainly enjoying our time serving as your State Treasurer and Junior Treasurer. You elected very capable officers to serve with us and, their dedication, commitment to federation, and assistance make our jobs easy to do.

Please rest assured that the duties that accompany our positions have been carried out in a timely manner. Monthly bills, along with other expenses, all accompanied by vouchers reviewed and signed by the State President, the Chairman of the Budget and Finance Committee and your State Treasurer, have been paid. Bank statements have been reconciled monthly and copies of such, along with all vouchers, have been sent to headquarters to be filed for audit. All dues have been submitted to GFWC and reimbursement has been made to the juniors for their portion of state dues received.

We have written and submitted articles for publication in each issue of the Virginia Clubwoman. We also presented a workshop at Conference in August for incoming district treasurers/junior treasurers and provided them with information to pass along to club treasurers. Meetings of the GFWC Virginia Endowment Committee, the Budget and Finance Committee, the Executive Committee/Junior Executive Committee, and the Executive Board/Junior Executive Board have been attended with financial reports being made at each as well as to the general body in attendance at conference. Your State Treasurer also attended the Southeastern Region Meeting in West Virginia in November.

Every effort is being made to assure that the funds of GFWC Virginia are being well protected, in interest-bearing accounts whenever possible, and that expenses are necessary and kept to a minimum.

We appreciate the confidence you have shown in us and look forward to serving as your State Treasurer/Junior Treasurer for another year.

Alice Kyle District volunteers actively support their communities, their members, and the Federation. Clubs partnered with other community organizations as well as completed many projects within their own clubs. For the GFWC Signature Project: Domestic Violence Awareness clubs supported Madeline's House and the regional Center for Violence Prevention. Another Junior club wrote an article on domestic violence prevention for their local newspaper. For the GFWC Junior Special Project, Advocates for Children, one club joined with their local Christmas Mother to provide Christmas for a needy family, another assisted at the Southside Youth Festival and at a local homecoming provided a corn pool for children to play in. In Arts six clubs held Art Contests, three held literary contests, one club assisted a high school Drama Department, contributed costumes to their Fine Arts Center, and one Junior club provided meals for summer art center performers. Two clubs made valentines to give to teachers or nursing home residents. In Conservation two clubs distributed tree seedlings, one to a local forest, and one club partnered with Master Gardeners and garden clubs to maintain the town's traffic circle. One club did clean up and landscaping at their local art center, community center, and local memorial park. Clubs participated in county cleanups, Adopt-A-Highway efforts, and year-round public trail maintenance. Several clubs provided monthly 'green' tips to their members. For Education, seven clubs awarded $7825 in local scholarships; two clubs supported local educational Foundations and five clubs volunteered at and donated to local libraries and summer reading programs. One club donated dictionaries for 3rd graders in seven public schools. Five clubs donated "back to school" supplies to the District Project, Patrick Henry Boys & Girls Plantation, and one Junior club "stuffed a bus" with school supplies for their local elementary school. One club sponsored "Bud," the "Read to the Dog" Ambassador to whom children read to develop self-confidence and reading skills. Bud was made an honorary member of their club. One Junior club participated in their local Christmas parade with a focus on Reading. Home Life projects found clubs holding Blood Drives and driving for Meals on Wheels. Clubs promoted Breast Cancer Awareness by participating in Relay for Life, wearing pink in October, and volunteering at a local Cancer treatment center. Clubs gave to Habitat for Humanity, Easter Seals, Patrick Henry Boys & Girls Plantation, fire departments, rescue squads, and pregnancy support centers. Two clubs volunteered at a local senior center; clubs volunteered at Hospice, food pantries, area hospitals, and provided transportation for patients. Two clubs rang the Salvation Army bell at Christmas. For Health three clubs partnered to put on a Bone China Tea to raise awareness of Osteoporosis. A local doctor spoke at the Tea and the money raised was donated to a local hospital to provide bone scans for those who can not afford them. Two clubs participated in Relay for Life. One club sponsored and volunteered at a Red Cross Bloodmobile. One club volunteered with the American Red Cross Relief Organization. International Outreach projects saw four clubs support Operation Smile, one club support the Heifer International Project, another hold a shower for Women in Livestock Development to train women to raise and manage livestock. Members participated in Operation Christmas Child, Haiti Crisis, Americares, Gleaning for the World, UNICEF, and Operation Teddy Bear. One club collected canned goods for World Food Day and one supported a local doctor working with Kids First. For Public Issues clubs donated to Disabled American Veterans, Paralyzed Veterans, Hospitalized Veterans, WIMSA (Women in the Military Serving America), and the D-Day Memorial in Bedford. One club volunteered at a US Naturalization Ceremony at a local historical site; one tended the gardens at the Blue Star Memorial. Members prepared and served brunch to Veterans. One club held a panel of local candidates with lively Q & A session. Two clubs sponsored After-Prom Parties. One club donated two sets of golf clubs to the YMCA for use by Vets, saved coupons for the military, and participated in the Phones for Soldiers Program. For Communication and Identity five clubs distributed a newsletter and sent articles and pictures to the local newspaper. One club used personalized stationery; one purchased an ad in the District newsletter. One club added GFWC to its club name, two clubs use a website, and two clubs created Facebook pages. In Fundraising clubs supported GFWC fundraising projects: Uncle Al's Pecans and Grounds for Change Coffee, one club sold their cookbook, several clubs held ongoing projects: Brunswick Stew sale, a Kitchen and Attic sale, Breakfast with Santa, and the 30th Annual Curious Corner. Clubs held a Car Show; sold cookbooks; and held a dinner for the Ruritans. Clubs; raised funds in community-specific ways: selling Community Calendars, hosting a booth at the Heart of Virginia Festival, holding a Game Day. In the area of Leadership, clubs reported many members serving in District positions; and several serving at the state level. Clubs sent delegates to District and State meetings. One club held a program on LEADS with a former LEADS participant speaking. Both General and Junior club members hold numerous leadership positions in their communities. Clubs reported donations of time and money to HOBY. In Legislation/Public Policy one club participates in local, state and national issues through phone calls, e-mails, and personal meetings with representatives. They attend city council meetings, staying in contact with all councilors.. One member was a Girl's State Counselor. For Membership clubs used many fun activities in their retention efforts: You Rock! monthly Appreciation Award, "Timeless Treasure" Awards for behind-the-scene workers, Luncheons in December and May, or in some cases, every month. Clubs implemented various recruiting strategies, a September Membership Drive, a Fall Membership Social, a Past President's Tea. New members participated in Orientation, were presented GFWC pins, and were mentored. Retention efforts included Telephone, Hospitality, Caring Committees, and Memorial services for members who have died. One club has a "Mystery Member" every month. Members are given hints to her identity in the newsletter and a prize is given those who guess correctly. For Women's History and Resource Center three club's Historians created scrapbooks. One club held a 55th Anniversary celebration and one club reported a member who was a Friend of the WHRC at GFWC Headquarters and a member of the 1734 Society.

Blue Ridge District

The members of the GFWC-VA Blue Ridge District worked diligently during the year to promote the Federation its projects and programs throughout their communities. The officers of the fourteen clubs in Blue Ridge set lofty goals and succeeded in reaching them.

The clubs of Blue Ridge promoted 854 programs and projects that involved 340 members this year. Our members spent 45,478 hours on these efforts. We donated a total of $144,502 and another $52, 727 with in –kind donations. This is an outstanding effort for our district! Home Life was the major focus for the district, followed by Education, Leadership, Public Issues, Membership, and Conservation. The District focus was “Sweat Suits for Victims”. This fund provides sweat suits and underwear to victims of domestic violence or rape at local hospitals.

The ladies of the Blue Ridge support a wide range of projects. Each club has talents and surprises in all the things they do. Some project are widely advertised and others are completed with little fanfare and happy results. The GFWC Roanoke County Woman’s Club established a relationship with a local hospital and supplied 20 personal care kits for use by victims of rape and abuse. The GFWC Blacksburg Junior Woman’s Club furnished an apartment for a young mother and her two daughters. Working with the Women’s Resource Center in Radford, the club adopted an apartment, cleaning, painting, and furnishing it for the family. The GFWC Bedford Woman’s Club had total membership participation with the local “Domestic Violence Gala”. The gala raised nearly $22,000 for the local domestic violence program. Both of the Junior clubs supported the GFWC Junior Special Project: Advocates for Children. The GFWC Roanoke Junior Women’s Club made it possible for the Children’s Trust Roanoke Valley to purchase Thanksgiving turkeys for 17 families participating in parenting classes. This was truly a blessing for the families where the parents were working hard to become better parents. GFWC Blacksburg Juniors held a baby shower for the NICU at the Carilion Clinic. GFWC Botetourt Town and Country Woman’s Club is a strong supporter of local theater, serving on the board, acting as hostesses, and they even have true actresses! GFWC Bedford Woman’s Club held a great fundraiser, sponsoring a basketball game with the Harlem Ambassadors playing against local players. The funds raised were used to purchase a service dog from “Canines for Combat Veterans”. GFWC Floyd County Woman’s Club operated a USO canteen during the Floyd County Veterans Day Parade. They decorated the canteen in patriotic colors and served over 200 visitors. GFWC Women’s Club of Roanoke provided meals every other month for workers on Habitat for Humanity sites. GFWC Blacksburg Woman’s Club supports the Montgomery County Christmas Store by collecting a variety of items for the store. Members repair dolls, and toys, making and mending clothes and matching dolls, toys, and books for families to buy. The ladies of the GFWC Bent Mountain Woman’s Club support their local library by manning it one night a month to provide extra hours for patrons. They also donated 319 books to the pediatric ward of a local hospital. GFWC Woman’s Club of Vinton strong commitment to youth is shown with a scholarship to HOBY, a book grant of $500 to a local high school graduate and scholarships to the local high school for a senior girl. GFWC Smith Mountain Lake Woman’s Club supports Unbridled Saddle, a therapeutic horse school for children. The annual Halloween party hosted by the GFWC Toteria Woman’s Club is the highlight of many physically and mentally challenged citizens. This year, 275 guests enjoyed an evening of music, food, and beverages. The club began planning in July for the party in October.

Clubs cooked for Ronald McDonald House guests, walked for Relay for Life, Easter Seal/UPC, Susan G. Korman, and JDF. They planted gardens, supported rescue and fire departments, veterans, military families, and those in nursing home and shelters. The ladies of the Blue Ridge may be small in number but they are big in heart. The challenge in the theme of the administration “Working Together....What Can We Build?” has been met this year. We have worked together and built stronger relationships with each other and better communities for those around us. BRAVO, Blue Ridge, and Keep on Building!

GFWC Virginia Lee District has 29 General Clubs and 16 Junior Clubs. We are centrally located in the Commonwealth of Virginia. The year started with a Leadership Workshop, presented by the First VP and Assistant Director of Junior Clubs for the General and Junior Reporting Chairmen. An Art Show for all clubs to enter Member and Student Art was held at the West End Community Center, which is owned by one General club and three Junior clubs in the District. A file exchange/dinner was held for all outgoing and incoming General and Junior Officers and Chairman to exchange their files and have a chance to get to know each other. The Fall Meeting was a joint meeting for Generals and Juniors. The State President and Junior Director were honored guests and speakers at the meeting. A dinner was held in their honor the evening before the meeting. A Christmas Social was held for the General and Junior Executive Committees. During the year Lee District members serve as Docents at the Governor's Mansion in Richmond.

GFWC Signature Project – Domestic Violence Program: Clubs observed Domestic Violence Awareness month in October by wearing and distributing purple ribbons, articles were published in club newsletters, Project Suitcase for women was supported and assault recovery kits were prepared for three hospitals.

The GFWC Virginia State Project – Take Time To Save A Child: Clubs observed National Child Abuse Prevention month in April, planted Pinwheel Gardens, attended training sessions then worked in the Prevent Child Abuse Virginia booth at the Virginia State Fair.

Arts: Our clubs supported the Arts by having docents at the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts, holding Arts and Crafts contest, making Holiday centerpieces and wreaths and taking some of them to elderly members of the community. Two clubs collected watches and money to be donated to the American Mural Project.

Conservation: All of the clubs that reported in this area had at least one recycling project for newspapers, aluminum cans, pop tops and glass. Many clubs participated in the Adopt A Highway State program. Shredded paper was given to the Humanize Society to “recycle it”! Clubs participated in Earth Day fairs and trash was picked up from road ways in support of Keep America Beautiful.

Education: Fourteen clubs donated $24,647.00 in scholarships to deserving students in their area and club members volunteered at the State Fair of Virginia.

Home Life: District clubs have made significant contributions of food and volunteer hours to the Central Virginia Food Banks. Several clubs also volunteered with Meals Wheels and provided Christmas gifts to the program participants and Clubs made monetary donations to Canine Companions for Independence.

Health: Breast cancer awareness is very high on the list of health subjects for our clubs. Pink ribbons were made and distributed, Yoplait lids were collected, Relay for Life was supported by one club and another club helped by holding an event at McDonalds and raised over $2,000.

International Outreach: Many clubs donated money to the Haiti earthquake relief. Samaritans Purse-Operation Christmas Child was supported by filling shoe boxes. World Food Day was supported by collecting food that would be shipped to third world countries, Operation Smile was supported and information was shared about the Heifer Project.

Public Issues: Clubs helped at the local USO by volunteering, donating food and decorating two Christmas trees in a Patriotic theme and donating them. Helmet liners were knitted by club women, kitchen items were donated to the Fisher House at the VA hospital in Richmond, Bingo parties were held at the VA hospital and food and money were taken to the Veterans, Women in Military Service was supported by donations and articles in newsletters.

Communication and Identity: Seven clubs joined Facebook to promote club awareness; two clubs advertised on Craig's List for members; three clubs advertised on a community calendar and ten clubs maintain a website.

Fundraising: Clubs sold flower bulbs, Innisbrook wrapping paper, cookbooks, peanuts, and many other items to raise money for projects and had members work at the Bizarre Bazaar.

Leadership: Lee District Clubs invited leaders to attend their meetings, supported the Girl's State Program and the HOBY program.

Legislation and Public Policy: Three clubs visited the General Assembly; many clubs reminded their members to vote on Election Day and provided volunteers at the polls.

Membership: One club wrote letters to each club member thanking them for their dedication to the club; a club placed an ad in a local paper, one club put a more visible sign in front of their clubhouse, and another club held an Open House to attract new members.

Women's History and Resource Center: One club that owns an historic club house updated the kitchen, another clubhouse was included in a listing in the National Register of Historic Places, one club loaned period clothing to the county museum to use in the display of Woman's Historical Clothing and one club participated in an Eleanor Roosevelt Trivia Contest.

The “Unity” Project - The Autism Society of Central Virginia: This is a project that is chosen by the President and Director of Junior Clubs then voted upon by the Junior and General members. $400.00 was donated by the District to the Holiday Party for children with Autism. This Project will continue through this Administration.

The members of Shenandoah District did incredible community acts of service, donated huge amounts of money to schools, other non-profits and agencies, sacrificed time with their families, volunteered untold number of hours within the area they lived, and generally provided for the well-being and care of others in their area.

Arts: Clubs held Art/Craft shows for their members and for Student Art. Four Clubs sponsored club and student writing contests through the GFWC Programs. The Waynesboro WC hosted the Annual Fall Foliage Art Show for two days. Club members decorated community Christmas trees and provided craft events for members and guests. Covington JWC sponsored an amateur photo contest for local residents and displayed the winning entries at the Covington Library.

Conservation: All Clubs are involved with recycling, beautifying communities, and adopting "Highway/Road Sites." One member of Covington Juniors donates her time picking up litter along the trails at Douthat State Park. Buena Vista WC planted 100 zinnias at the entrance to the park. The Covington Juniors actively supports the Alleghany County Humane Society. Staunton Augusta Juniors pick up trash quarterly along a two mile section of road. A number of clubs have conservation/go green tips published in their newsletters.

Education: A total of eighteen scholarships were given from eleven Clubs, amounting to $14,175. District Club Members volunteer in the library, honor their teachers with refreshments during Teachers Appreciation Week, and members collect Campbell soup labels and box tops for their school. Books are given to schools, libraries, placed in local Laundromats, in Emergency Room and Radiology Departments at local hospitals. Club members serve as book buddies and clerical aides to various teachers during the year. Several clubs donated monies and backpacks and supplies to help with students who could not afford to have those supplies at the beginning of the school years.

Home Life: The Staunton-Augusta Juniors volunteered at the Valley Mission Shelter cooking meals and donating clothing. The WC of Madison County provided assistance to three area food banks, providing $1500 in monetary assistance. Many clubs gave donations and food to their local food banks, Free Clinics, Operation Santa Claus Programs, gave needy family Christmas presents, presents to nursing homes, hospitals, pregnancy help centers and many more organizations. WC of Greene is in a partnership with Social Services in operating a Food Bank. Waynesboro Woman's Club continues to operate the Clothes Closet for local area needy residents.

Health: Programs were held on various women's health issues including self-breast examination, cancer, women's heart issues, home safety, way to stay healthy, staying active, improved long term health care. Two Clubs decided not to exchange Christmas presents but to give money to Marianne's Room at a local hospital for people undergoing Chemo and to a family whose mother was in the final stages of cancer. A club donated 100 fleece throws to give to Meals on Wheels recipients at Christmas. Club members donated numerous items to local nursing homes including books, magazine subscriptions, flowers, potted plants, seasonal items to decorate with as well as personal items for the residents.

International Outreach: Wayland Woman's Club completed 50 bags for Operation Smile. The Lexington Woman's Club hosted their 18th International Dinner. Several clubs donated money to Operation Smiles, gowns, and blankets. Buena Vista Juniors participated in Operation Christmas Child filling shoeboxes.

Public Issues: Donations to CASA and other organizations at Christmas were made by several clubs. Volunteering and donating to the local food banks were done by several clubs. Several clubs had speakers from the local rescue squad who represented the volunteer and the paid staff informing the members of the new policies governing each other. Another speaker from 911 on the new emergency system was had by a club. One club continued its project of collecting for UNICEF at Halloween in their community.

Public Relations: Many clubs are wearing their pins when out in public on volunteer events, doing fundraising, and many are using plaques with the club's name when suitable. Many of our Clubs have been able to get publicity in their local papers on projects and events held. Clubs reported that all are doing newsletters – most are on line as well as having yearbooks printed and available especially to new members.

Domestic Violence: Clubs have had several programs on domestic violence and donations have been made to shelters especially for the children housed there.

Fundraising: Arts and Craft Items were auctioned at a Christmas Dinner, serving pancakes at Breakfast at Applebee's Restaurant, serving Barbeque Chicken, Bridge-A-Rama, having plant sales, yard sales, jewelry sales, bake sales at Festivals, Box Lunches sold to office staff and at employment businesses, English Tea Party, Fashion Shows, Harvest Dances, participated in Belk's Charity Sale, sold Christmas Ornaments, Christmas Homes' Tours, Bingo Parties, Home Interior Candles Sale. Clubs worked with other nonprofits to help with festivals, fairs and special events.

Membership: A mother/daughter banquet, special recognitions of birthdays, progressive dinners, catered events, picnics, membership teas were all held with a focus of getting new members. Special events were held at club meetings to retain members: socials with husbands and families, fun projects at club meetings, club field trips.

Leadership: Clubs have Orientation Sessions for new members, encouraging members to attend District and State Meetings. Clubs asked leaders at District and State to do programs. Yearbooks are given to Club members. Programs and skits are being developed to help members to be aware of why they are federated and explaining what the Federation does for us. 3 members were at the 2010 LEADS conference from the District. Clubs are doing Newsletters to keep all members updated – sharing of GFWC Va. Clubwoman Magazine and District Newsletter, which has helped. Updating positions and descriptions for Clubs has been a benefit. A number of Clubs have leaders in District and State Positions serving this Administration.

SOUTHWESTERN DISTRICT

Jenny Martin, President 391 Members 35,310 Volunteer Hours
Kristi Easton, Junior Director 637 Projects $122,975 Donated & In-Kind

Southwestern District volunteers had “sole” as they attempted to “make a difference” in their local communities. Junior members supported the Arts program by holding coloring contests and serving as judges in the local Christmas parade. Members wrote poems and short stories, participated in craft shows, visited museums and art exhibits.

Southwestern District went “green” as members participated in county clean-up projects, observed Earth Day mulched their adopt-a-spots, and recycled plastic, newspapers, greeting cards, and stuffed animals.

Clubs promoted education by providing scholarships, supporting their local libraries with donations of books, held a college shower for two Upward Bound students, collected Labels for Education, and donated school supplies,

Home Life was supported throughout Southwestern District. Narrows and Pearisburg Juniors gave monetary donations to Community Action and the local Social Service Department to provide needy families with the basic necessities such as water, lights and food during these tough economic times.

Members prepared and delivered meals to needy families, brought toys and clothes for children, assisted in stocking food pantries, collected soup and crackers for seniors, and collected blankets for the homeless population, provided transportation to and from doctor appointments, and purchased hearing aids for needy individuals.

Health remains an area of interest with the two junior clubs focusing on Relay for life events and giving monetary donations toward the purchase of wigs and bras as part of the American Cancer Society’s Look Good Feel Good Program for cancer survivors. Members participated in blood drives, assisted with health screenings, wore red for Heart Awareness Month in February, and observed October as breast Cancer Awareness Month by wearing pink ribbons and by making monetary donations, creating goody bags for ill children, provided mobile health services and meds to the uninsured, gave gifts to the mentally challenged, visited area nursing homes and hospitals, and had special guest speakers do talks about diabetes, avoiding stress, and about the importance of keeping your heart healthy.

Members shared their travels to parts around the globe and sampled a variety of food from different countries at an International picnic, and went Trick or Treating for UNICEF. Also, monetary donations were given to Haiti, Heifer International and to Operation Smile.

Junior and General Clubs joined forces in the fight against cancer as they held a golf tournament to raise funds for cancer prevention and research.

Historical buildings and landmarks were cleaned and decorated, newsletters promoting tourism were created and troop boxes were assembled and candidates presented their views in local forums where they focused on public issues.

Good communication skills remain the key to success in Southwestern District as members recognize the importance of promoting their individual clubs, the district, and the Federation.

Club banners were displayed at events, and the GFWC emblem was displayed at the entrance into town. Members wore federation apparel and club shirts and pins as they travel around the county.

Photos, publicity booklets, web sites, face book, Twitter, and word of mouth are some of the tactics used by members to update others about the “buzz” of events that are occurring within Southwestern District.

Juniors focused on fundraisers such as their Annual T.V. Auction and Annual Breakfast with Santa where the proceeds from these events go to charitable organizations within the county.

Clubs had booths at fairs where they sold craft items, baked goods, t-shirts, jewelry, rada knives, hotdogs, cow bells, grab bags, nuts, BBQ lunches and pancake breakfasts, sold raffle tickets, held silent and “live” auctions, played Longaberger bingo, and held yard and vendor sales.

Southwestern District held a Leadership Workshop and utilized resources from GFWC and GFWC VIRGINIA as a tool to train and recruit leaders. Members served in leadership positions on club, district and state levels.

Leaders attended GFWC VIRGINIA LEADS workshops and one leader from Southwestern District was chosen to attend GFWC LEADS in Milwaukee. Donations were made to HOBY and Girls State where young adults can gain confidence and develop good leadership skills. Also, because of the ongoing leadership development and training the first Juniorette club known as the GFWC Giles County Juniorette club was established in Giles County.

Legislative issues are important in Southwestern District and the Richlands Woman’s Club created a booklet for their members instructing them about news laws in Virginia and gave them directions on how to contact their representatives. Members attended hearings in Richmond and shared legislative updates from GFWC.

Membership incentives such as dues reduction, membership baskets, and recognition of top recruiter were utilized by clubs and the district in their attempts to gain new members and to retain current members.

Clubs held membership socials and Christmas dinners, secret pal exchanges and utilized the “Just Ask” technique to increase membership. Also, clubs used tools such as newspapers, newsletters, flyers, ads, face book and twitter as networking sources to promote their clubs, district, and the federation.

As officers of Southwestern District we have strived to fulfill our duties by visiting clubs, doing officer installations, completing reports, promoting membership and training and developing new leaders.

Southwestern District members are Busy as Bees as they strive toward “Making a Difference” in their communities by showering others with the compassion that they have deep within their “Soles”.

TIDEWATER DISTRICT

The members of the Tidewater District are awesome volunteers. The evidence of their hard work and creativity is shown in their reports. In addition to "tried and true projects", many clubs sought new ways to serve the community and raise funds for charities. In this transition year for reporting, they still did a good job of reporting.

Clubs supported the GFWC Signature Project of Domestic Violence by supporting local shelters through donations of supplies, gifts, clothes, and cash. The Salvation Army Christmas projects were supported through the adoption of angel tree children, dressing bears, and stuffing stockings. Funds were also raised for CHKD.

Members enjoyed the art through participating in and attending various performances. In addition to attending programs at the Peninsula Community Theater, American Theater, Chrysler Museum, and The Ferguson Center, members made monetary donations to keep art performances alive. Donations were made to the VA Stage Company, Hurrah players, Tidewater Winds, and Harbor Lights. The JWC of Hilton Village presented their gas light theater play and it was supported by many Tidewater members. Creative arts abounded with the making of items to sell or for their own enjoyment. Art shows were sponsored for professionals and students. Members supported the district art show.

Tidewater is surrounded by water so it was natural to support conservation projects protecting our waterways. Work was done with the Lynnhaven River Project, Oyster Reef Keepers of Virginia, National Wildlife Refuge, Elizabeth River Project, and the Chesapeake Bay Foundation. The documentary about our endangered waterways, "Last Boat" had its premier showing at the Mariners Museum and club members served as hostesses for the showing. Beautification projects included clubhouse maintenance, yard contests, garden tours, and adopt a spot. Animal Rescue, the SPCA and a feral cat colony were supported. Of course, members did what they could to recycle everything.

Donations of books, supplies, and money went to support local schools. Almost every club sponsored scholarships, either through local schools or Fanny Stearns. Farm Fresh and Food Lion receipts, Campbell's soup labels, and Boxtops for Education were collected. Several members participated in book clubs. Some attended the VA State Fair.

Many projects reported in this category centered on helping people in underdeveloped countries. Many clubs made monetary and supply donations to the Haiti disaster relief. Christmas gifts in the shoe box projects were sent to many children. Donations were made to Physicians for Peace, clothes to Africa, classrooms in Costa Rio, and sending drugs through SEDONA. The Bransby Home for Rest for Horses was supported by two clubs through the collection of postage stamps. Many clubs collected funds for UNICEF, Operation Smile, and Heifer International.

Much of the effort in Public Issues was to support the troops in the Middle East. Donated items included knitted helmet hats, Quilts of Valor, pocket pillows, and goody boxes. Safe driving issues were addressed through the AARP driving program and Distracted Driving Pledges.

In Communications and Identity clubs used newsletters and newspaper articles, started web sites and have Facebook pages. Two clubs participated in parades. Many clubs wear club embroidered apparel.

Clubs used community events to raise funds by participating in city festivals by parking cars, pumping beer, and serving Brunswick stew. Clubs catered dinners, had fashion shows, card parties, and played bingo. Those with club houses rented them to help with the upkeep. Clubs entertained for a fee with a womanless beauty show and a play.

Leadership projects included officer training and the encouragement of members to attend the president's council meeting, district and state functions. Youth leadership was encouraged through donations to HOBY.

Under Legislation and Public Policy clubs encouraged members to vote in local elections. Members brushed up on their skills through Parliamentary Procedures workshops. One person attended a legislative rally.

Realizing the importance for membership, clubs held picnics, holiday parties, pot luck dinners, bridge groups, and prayer breakfasts. Members were provided information through yearbooks, newsletters, and calling trees. Some clubs send out birthday, get well, and sympathy cards. One club sponsored a juniorette club that continues to grow.

Clubs preserved their heritage through scrapbooks and DVD pictorials. Donations were made to the GFWC Resource Center, Camp Easter Seals, the Dogwood Society, and the VA Tech ambulance fund.

The system of reporting was revamped by GFWC this year. During this transition year, many clubs did not fully understand the difference between Collaboration and Partnerships. With further training of club presidents and district chairmen, the executive board feels that there will be a better understanding of the GFWC objectives and a more accurate report showing an increase of participation and support in all areas.

The Club brought the Harlem Ambassadors (basketball players similar to the Harlem Globetrotters) to their community to raise funds for Canine for Combat Veterans. These men are drug free, teach it is cool not to do drugs, and to stay in school. Clubwomen did all the necessary advertising, ticket selling, obtaining of sponsors, and engaging community members (high school players, businessmen, police officers and school officials) to play as the opposing team. The benefit grossed $9,000+. After expenses and a small amount from the Club, $7,500 was donated for a service dog for a combat vet.

Best Single Project – Large Club – Collaboration – GFWC Herndon Woman’s Club – Northern District

The Club entertained World War II Veterans to a day at the National Air and Space Museum with lunch. Through discussions that day, it was discovered that the Honor Roll Plaque honoring the War Veterans which had been in the Town Hall for years had disappeared from public view when the new post office and Town Hall were built. After some research the women found the plaque, much in need of repair and restoration. They researched (through historical documents, local publications, local citizens, and the Fairfax County World War II service records) to replace all the names that were on the original plaque. At a community program on Memorial Day, the club presented the restored plaque to the Mayor who will place it in the new Town Council offices for public display.

GFWC Virginia Junior Club of the Year

Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun – Northern District

The Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun exemplifies a welcoming and supportive club. The members welcome prospective members at their meetings, membership events and volunteer events. They are contacted by a club officer and reminded of club meetings. This welcoming environment is evident as they added nine new members in 2010 and have fifteen working towards completing their qualifications for membership.

Members provided meals to new mothers and for family emergencies/illnesses. They also created opportunities to meet outside of club activities in order to get to know each other better. Members met for dessert and beverages, and for a happy hour.

JWCL members are supportive of adversities their club members have experienced or are still experiencing. They supported March of Dimes with a March for Babies, provided volunteers, sold bracelets and donated money. One member and her family performed in the VSAarts of Loudoun's production of Cinderella. Members supported her by assisting back stage, in the box office, selling concessions and as ushers. Eight members also attended the performance to show their support. Support continues for a former club member who lost her daughter to Cystic Fibrosis in 2007. The club supports Megan's Walk by manning the on-site registration and donating funds to support the walk. A club member and her grandmother walked the survivor lap at the Relay for Life event. She continues to be an inspiration to her fellow club members. Donations were collected on behalf of their current club president as she is training to run in the Country Music Half-Marathon in Nashville, TN in April. All funds raised will go to support the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.

The members of the Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun definitely go above and beyond what is expected of them and why they are the Junior Club of the Year for 2010.

Several members took on leadership roles at the District and State levels. Members attend, actively participate in and share information from all District, State, Southern Region meetings and GFWC convention. Each month a Head CheerLEADER award was given to club members demonstrating leadership qualities. This club exemplifies leadership through organization and participation.

MARJORIE BRANCH AWARD

Large Club – Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun – Northern District

This club is presented the Marjorie Branch award for the large club category for work done in membership in 2010, with concentration on retention. This club made membership retention a priority by promoting leadership development, by keeping members informed through various methods, by educating members about GFWC, and by organizing fun activities to allow members to become acquainted on a social level. In addition, the club provides support and sends cards for family celebrations, emergencies, illnesses and deaths. The club organized non-business activities to promote social interaction and fun including happy hours where club members could catch up and celebrate club successes nine times during the year. In addition, they held pre-meeting dinners at a local restaurant. A cookie exchange was held prior to one of the meetings. Besides social events, this club also held two formal membership orientations to ensure that members understand the club and overall GFWC structure. They also held a "Reap the Rewards of Volunteering event" where club-life was highlighted along with fun food, club scrapbooks and the club's history. This club added nine new members in 2010 and have several prospective members working toward qualifications for membership.

Small Club – GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell, Inc. – Southside District

This club is presented the Marjorie Branch award for the small club category for work done in membership in 2010, with concentration on retention. This club worked hard to retain their members and continue to promote their activities to attract new members. This club makes use of business cards, club profiles and various methods for recruiting. For retention, this club makes sure members are "in the loop", giving them a sense of belonging and empowerment. They utilize GFWC materials and Membership matters newsletter to promote new ideas for retention. Orientations and workshops are conducted to educate officers and chairmen to be effective leaders. The club used social networking and a website to help promote information and attract new members. Members were recognized for special occasions, participate in secret pals, and celebrated Junior Month by recognizing members for their years of service. A "Juniors in Need" program supports members going through difficult times. In an effort to keep members from getting burned out, this club incorporated several fun events allowing members to socialize, including movie nights and joining up with another local club for a night out.

PHYLLIS V. ROBERTS AWARD

Large Club – GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Hilton Village – Tidewater District

The winning club worked with a General club as a “family” – a General member sits on their board, allowing each club to receive up-to-date club information. The clubs have assisted each other with socials and fundraisers.

Small Club – Junior Woman’s Club of Manassas – Northern District

Small Club – GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell, Inc. – Southside District

They provided help and support to numerous members of their club who serve in district and state positions. Members are taught that to be a successful GFWC club and member, the knowledge of the Federation on all levels is a must. Throughout the year, a variety of information is provided to the members through the yearbook, newsletter and at all meetings, federation facts/contacts/dates are announced as well as LEADS information and “Answers to Frequently Asked Questions about Juniors”

SOUTHSIDE DISTRICT JUNIOR AWARD IN LEGISLATION

GFWC Junior Woman's Club of Hopewell – Southside District

This award remembers two special Juniors in the Southside District who served their Club, District and the State for almost two decades: Mary Grant Jackson and Pam M. Comstock. In 2010, this club had 100% of its membership registered to vote and members were informed about local city council races and were encouraged to research candidates in order to make an informed decision. Perhaps the most unique project of this club was that a club member arranged for a tour of the White House for Club members during the holidays. Club members toured and learned about the different trees that decorated the President's home, holidays gifts given and were treated to a fun day of learning more about the White House.

THOMAS JEFFERSON HEALTH AWARD

Large Club – Junior Woman's Club of Loudoun – Northern District

This club again raised over $8,600 in cash donations and provided many volunteer hours for a variety of nationally sponsored health related causes: American Heart Association, March of Dimes, Cystic Fibrosis, American Cancer Society, as well as local organizations such as Aldler Center for Caring (Hospice) and local families who needed medical care. The club was enthusiastic and creative in raising awareness and educating the community and club members through newsletters, presentations, brochures, meeting favors and gift bags at numerous events. The club also donated additional $790 from club funds and personal donations from club members to their health-related causes.
