ANNUAL REPORT
2008
GENERAL FEDERATION OF WOMEN’S CLUBS OF VIRGINIA

“Service, the Debt of Education”

A Compilation of Reports
Distributed at the 102nd Annual Convention

April 16-19, 2009

Williamsburg Kingsmill Marriott
Williamsburg, Virginia
Just one short year ago, we closed out our Centennial celebration and plunged into our second century! We learned from the past 100 years to create the future and are now orchestrating that future with “A Symphony of Service”.

Read with pride this compilation of annual reports by your team of officers and chairmen who have recorded our most recent history as composed by you, the clubwomen from across the state. Share in the celebration of awards for noteworthy accomplishments of GFWC Virginia clubs!

Clubwomen worked both independently and in concert with other organizations to improve their communities and the lives of their fellow citizens. Federation volunteers have created and beautified, clipped and collected, tutored and trained, encouraged and promoted, initiated and supported to the tune of 537,027.8 hours for 10,420 programs/projects with $2,404,215.58 donated and/or raised!

New initiatives this administration include the sale of ads in the Clubwoman magazine. Goals set to help offset rising costs of that publication were exceeded thanks to the participation of every district!

The Strategic Plan/Long Range Planning Committee continues its review of all aspects of our Federation. An information gathering survey has been distributed for input from all members as this committee studies current practices and considers recommendations to ensure a vibrant and successful future for GFWC Virginia.

Recommendations of the Arts & Crafts Study Committee to evaluate the future of that annual contest and show have been initiated. That committee will continue to monitor those changes with additional adjustments being made as warranted.

In the area of Leadership, our 2009 GFWC LEADS participant, Arlene Vinion-Dubiel of Alice Kyle District, has been selected. Plans are underway as we prepare for only our second GFWC Virginia LEADS in conjunction with a one day summer Conference.

The focus on membership remains a special emphasis as we explore ways to “gain and retain”. The website has continued to develop as a vital communication tool.

The Virginia Tech Memorial Fund State Project kicked off at Conference 2008 on the campus of Virginia Tech. GFWC has partnered with Virginia to raise funds for the purchase of a rescue vehicle for the Virginia Tech Student Rescue Squad. In this first year, over $30,000 has been raised and donated by club members!

As we use this interlude to reflect on the first year of this administration, it is with great pride in our accomplishments and in the knowledge that our Federation has been instrumental in improving the lives of others – we DO make a difference!
Congratulations GFWC Virginia Juniors! You are an amazing group of ladies and have once again risen to great heights as you captured stars in 2008. Your volunteer efforts have resulted in 94,221 volunteer hours on 1,696 projects, and donated/contributed $661,370.05. Forty-two Junior and Juniorette clubs reported their achievements in 2008. WOW! I am in awe at the wonderful things that you have accomplished in your clubs this past year and am very proud to represent you.

Virginia Juniors participated in projects under all departments, programs and special project areas as outlined by GFWC and GFWC Virginia. You are to be commended on a job well done! Fundraising topped the list of project areas with the most participation: 118 projects of 22,611 hours that resulted in $251,781.57. Virginia Juniors sold everything from candles, Uncle Al’s Pecans, Innisbrook, baked goods, and stew. You sponsored yard sales, bingo for baskets, and casinos for cash. All completed to benefit your communities.

The Home Life – Helping Hands program received the second highest support with 233 projects, 8,159 hours and $187,156.14. Junior clubs supported local, statewide and national organizations. Locally clubs supported food pantries, homeless shelters, group homes, sheltered workshops, animal shelters, and holiday programs for the needy. Chapters of national and international organizations such as Easter Seals Virginia, March of Dimes, Habitat for Humanity, and Canine Companions also received support. Clubs are not bound by working within avenues that are already known, you are breaking into new areas when you see a need in your community. From creating professional clothing closets to prom dress events to making sure residents have warm meals on Thanksgiving; Juniors and Juniorettes are answering the call to service! Women’s Health is also an area of focus both through the GFWC program and the new Focus on Junior Health. Members are raising awareness, taking action and advocating on health issues from healthy living, cancer, heart disease, Autism, Down’s Syndrome, Alzheimer’s, and Cystic Fibrosis. In total, 113 health related projects consisting of 4,000 volunteer hours and $28,123 were accomplished.

Juniors continue to focus on enhancing the lives of children through their support of the GFWC Junior Special Project – Advocates for Children and Education projects. Advocates for Children garnered support through 62 projects, 10,534 volunteer hours and over $23,000 contributed. Projects ranged from purchasing school supplies to medical equipment, sponsoring child abuse prevention activities and safe after-prom and graduation events. Education initiatives included adopting new teachers, reading programs, and sponsoring scholarships. In all, 136 projects among the two program areas – Education in the Community and Focus on Literacy, resulted in 4,300 hours and $41,463 in donations.

Juniors are taking on the challenges of Membership and Leadership. You are reaching for stars and capturing them in new members and stronger leaders! 219 Membership initiatives yielded 5,520.5 hours and $122,763. More than 10 clubs realized a gain in membership through recruiting efforts and we are retaining members as well! Clubs invested in Leadership through 225 projects, 13,667 hours and $18,783 in contributions. You are sending delegates to District, State, and GFWC meetings, ensuring your club officer’s are prepared with transition meetings and trainings, and looking to the future through support of HOBY. Great job ladies!

GFWC Virginia Juniors are shining examples of what volunteers can do when they put their hearts, minds, and muscles into making a difference. You are accomplishing great things and are an inspiration. I look forward to continuing to “Reach for the Stars!” with you. I am here to serve you, so please let me know if I can assist in any way. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as your Third Vice President/Director of Junior Clubs, it is truly an honor.
The celebration of the 100th Anniversary of GFWC Virginia helped renew Federation “spirit”. Our long history of success has forced us to look at our Federation’s future. GFWC Virginia clubs recognize the importance of identifying members’ leadership qualities and abilities and the very real necessity of developing members’ leadership and management skills. Lori and I serve this administration as the GFWC Virginia Leadership Chairman and Junior Chairman and as elected officers. Our Annual Report reflects the duties and responsibilities of the Leadership Program as well as the duties and responsibilities of our respective offices. It was our privilege to plan and participate in the two day GFWC Virginia Leadership Training Orientation for incoming district and state officers in March and for the one day Leadership Training Orientation of incoming GFWC Virginia Chairmen and Junior Chairmen in June. The Leadership Links section of the 2008-2010 GFWC Virginia Yearbook was reviewed and updated, as was the Leadership Program on our GFWC Virginia web site. Lori and I participated in the planning and implementation of the GFWC Virginia Conference in August and facilitated a workshop for our district counterparts as well as two Leadership Workshops. We have attended all regular, and called, meetings of our respective Executive Committees, Executive Boards, Budget and Finance and Endowment Committees. Other activities as First Vice President/President-Elect/Leadership Chairman and/or Assistant Director of Junior Clubs/Leadership Junior Chairman included: submission of 3 articles, leadership “cues” and Jennie “promotions” for publication in The Virginia Clubwoman; leadership presentations at two district wide workshops and at eight clubs in five districts; regular, “In the Spotlight” communication with all district Leadership Chairmen and Junior Chairmen and with GFWC Virginia Chairmen and Junior Chairmen; attendance at the 2008 GFWC Convention and at the 2008 Southeastern Region Meeting. We are enjoying our 2008-2010 leadership theme: “Put Leadership In The Spotlight And Find The Leading Lady In You.” “Red carpet” introductions, “auditions” for Jennie and GFWC LEADS, “center stage” reports and the music of ABBA’s Mamma Mia… GFWC Virginia Leading Ladies have been dancing in the aisles!

GFWC 2nd VICE PRESIDENT-DALE FISHER

Membership recognition was abundant at the 2008 GFWC Virginia Convention. Our new club, the GFWC Dominion Sisterhood Juniorettes was welcomed, club anniversary certificates were presented, and our Districts’ new member Top Recruiters and the GFWC Virginia Top Recruiter were recognized. Star Pins were awarded and the GFWC Silver and Gold Service Pins were presented to GFWC Virginia Past Presidents. This officer and your GFWC Virginia Junior Membership Chairmen, Sheila Ridout, met with our district counterparts at GFWC Virginia Orientation to review objectives and prepare for the administration. The GFWC Virginia Membership theme, “Federation – Get In the Game” was introduced. The Membership section of the 2008-2010 GFWC Virginia Yearbook was reviewed and updated, as were the applicable pages of the GFWC Virginia web site. Sheila and I presented two workshops at GFWC Virginia Summer Conference and membership materials were distributed. A state New Club Building Team has been appointed and federation resources have been provided. An electronic map was produced and target areas have been assessed. Work is currently underway on two new clubs. I have attended and reported at the GFWC Virginia Executive Board Meetings and attended meetings of the GFWC Virginia Budget & Finance Committee and Endowment Fund Committee. I have traveled to GFWC Convention in Chicago, IL and Southeast Region Conference in Knoxville, TN where I participated in GFWC Membership Seminars. I had the privilege of visiting Tidewater District’s President Council and I participated membership programs of several clubs. Project ideas, program updates, reminders and reporting tips have been sent on a regular basis to District Membership Chairmen. I have submitted 3 articles to The Virginia Clubwoman. New Member Recruitment Coupons, forwarded from your District 2nd Vice Presidents, have been recorded and letters of welcome have been sent to 327 new Virginia clubwomen.

GFWC Virginia membership continues to be a challenge however, as in all club work, when approached with Federation friends it is an enjoyable endeavor.
GFWC VIRGINIA SECRETARY
WANDA BURLEY

As GFWC Virginia Secretary, I have recorded the minutes of the GFWC Virginia Conference as well as the meetings of the GFWC Virginia Executive Board during this first year of the administration. I have attended all meetings of the GFWC Virginia Budget and Finance Committee and the Endowment Committee. In the fall, I attended the SER meeting in Tennessee. In addition, I have submitted articles to the Virginia Clubwoman and along with the Junior Secretary / Treasurer, Christine Kerkeslager, presented a workshop for the District Secretaries at the Conference in Blacksburg.

It has been a privilege to work with the other members of the GFWC Virginia Executive Board as well as the members of the Junior Executive Board. Thank you for the opportunity to serve as the GFWC Virginia Secretary and to record a piece of history of this wonderful organization. I am looking forward to the second year of this administration.

GFWC VIRGINIA TREASURER
FRAN EDWARDS

It is said that the second time around is sweeter. My second term as treasurer has been just as much fun as the first as well as much easier. Apparently this officer learned well during the first two years and has been able to apply that knowledge to a new administration.

The “nuts and bolts” of this position have been carried out in a timely manner—paying monthly bills, completing monthly disbursements, and providing reimbursements as vouchers have been presented. Also bank statements have been reconciled and the working account has been verified as accurate with both reports forwarded to headquarters on a monthly basis. All dues have been paid to GFWC and reimbursement of dues has been made to the Junior account.

During the year since installation, the GFWC VA Junior Treasurer, Christine Kerkeslager, and I have provided training for district treasurers and junior treasurers at orientation as well held a follow-up workshop at conference. I have attended Budget & Finance committee meetings and worked with the fellow officers to insure that all funds of this organization were being used in the most economical fashion. Reports on the status of the federation accounts were presented at each board meeting as well as conference and convention. With the Junior Treasurer, articles were submitted to each edition of the Virginia Clubwoman.

I thank you for affording me the opportunity to serve as your GFWC VA Treasurer and continue to look forward to another year working with and for you.
In 2008, it was apparent that Alice Kyle District volunteers in all fifteen reporting clubs chose not to follow a path, but chose instead to “blaze a trail.” General and Junior clubs each made a significant effort to work smarter, maximize impact, explore efficiencies, streamline processes – all to ensure that volunteerism in their communities remained a renewable resource. Clubs partnered with other community organizations to supplement resources and increase levels of expertise, used websites and Face Book to publicize community volunteer service and entice new members. Clubs volunteered critical support to those in need, “paying it forward” with random acts of kindness to those in their community. Clubs continued to do what they do best - display, award, plant, recycle, conserve, read, visit, donate, mentor, build, collect, vote, publicize, support, fundraise, prepare, sell, inform, and gift – each of which generates a robust and focused light.

In the area of Arts, clubs held Member and Student Art Contests and sponsored community Art Shows to commemorate Youth Art Month. Clubs made Valentines for teachers and local nursing homes and rented vendor space to local artists who sold handmade items. One club supported Marine Band Concerts, gave donations to Public Television and the Metropolitan Opera and one club sponsored “kid art” projects – pumpkin carving, tablecloth painting and gingerbread house decorating.

In the area of Conservation, clubs planted trees or seedlings in honor of Arbor Day. Earth Day was observed by counting insects in a Butterfly Garden and inspecting/repairing bluebird houses. Clubs adopted highways and streams and tapped community Master Gardeners to present programs or participate in projects. Members served on Beautification Councils and Litter Control Committees and clubs included Conservation/Beautification tips in club newsletters, newspapers and magazines.

In the area of Education, clubs donated to scholarship funds; obtained grants for schools and volunteered at and donated to local libraries. Clubs donated books to at-risk community youth, the Read-Up Program, Patrick Henry Boys & Girls Plantation and to a summer reading program. One club donated dictionaries; another sponsored a Publishing Center where students improved writing skills. On club sponsored a “Girls Rock” Book Club to encourage teen reading. Members read to preschoolers and elementary classes; one club refurbished “Gus the Bus’ to bring books to inner city children. Clubs collected soup labels, box tops and Yoplait lids to provide supplies for schools.

In the area of Home Life, clubs contributed time and funding to Meals-on-Wheels, Food Banks, and needy families in their areas. Clubs promoted Breast Cancer Awareness through programs, community seminars and driving patients to therapy, doctor’s appointments and treatments. Clubs contributed to Easter Seals, participating in Cartridge for Kids and sponsoring campers. Clubs donated funds and resources to Habitat for Humanity, March of Dimes, Patrick Henry Boys & Girls Plantation, bloodmobiles, fire departments, rescue squads, after-prom parties, and pregnancy support centers. The Commonwealth’s Attorney spoke at one club on wills medical directives and estate planning. One club provided a CPA who participated in a Career Assessment Training to help students balance a check book.

In the area of International Affairs, one club held an Operation Smile Gospel Event; ticket holders brought Smile Wish List items and monetary donations. Clubs supported the Heifer International Project; another held a shower for Women in Livestock Development – a division of the Heifer Project to train women to raise and manage livestock. Members participated in World Food Day, Feed the Children, CARE, Operation Christmas Child, Life2Orphans, Gleaning for the World. Clubs donated to the Carter Center, a local United Nations Program; Compassion International to foster a child; and HIV/AIDS Fund in Tanzania, Africa. One club collected for UNICEF and club members purchased items from the UNICEF holiday catalogue.

In the area of Public Affairs, members worked with local governments to provide resources to benefit veterans and donated to local veteran groups, supported veteran memorials and tended Blue Star Memorial gardens. Members donated magazine subscriptions and cell phones to active troops in the Middle East and sent cards and letters to soldiers on active duty. Members sponsored a Naturalization Ceremony. Clubs shared tips on preparing homes for disaster and existing services for elderly people who were abused or neglected. A Sheriff presented a program on community Safety issues; members published safety awareness alerts in newsletters, took a self-defense class and attended Fifty-Five Alive programs on safety rules for aging seniors.

In the area of Communication/Public Affairs, clubs submitted articles to newspapers, wore JWC shirts at outdoor concert series events and club/district/Dogwood pins to community events to promote Federation awareness. One club placed their Cookbook filled with Federation Facts in a Time Capsule to share Federation Facts in the future. Websites advertised club activities, community service projects; Community Improvement events, fundraising activities, achievements and scholarship applications. Clubs purchased ads in the District newsletter to advertise a fundraiser and promote Federation Day by recognizing the number of members x the length of volunteer service = total volunteer hours of the membership.

To raise funds, club sold pecans, wrapping paper, stew, calendars, collectible building and tote bags. They held Bazaars, Golf Tournaments, Home Tours, a Red Cross Benefit, a Curious Corner Store, Easter Egg Hunts and Breakfast with Santa. They held Bazaars, Golf Tournaments, Home Tours, a Red Cross Benefit, a Curious Corner Store, Easter Egg Hunts and Breakfast with Santa.

To recruit members, they invited, entertained, educated, and “just asked.” To retain members, they connected, praised, contacted, rewarded, corresponded, informed, e-mailed, cheered, socialized and “gamed.” And they made sure that fun was an integral part of club work – with Bingo, Bridge, Mahjong, Canasta, Spa Night and Shagging Lessons (babysitting included)!

Alice Kyle District abounds with volunteers who brought enthusiasm, commitment, compassion and energy to every volunteer effort implemented. Their projects and programs generated a robust and focused light as they “blazed a trail” into GFWC Virginia’s second century.
Our GFWC Virginia Blue Ridge District is proud of continuing our rich heritage of service to this organization in this our second century of service. We continue to have amazing ladies accomplishing major feats by service not only at the club level but indeed at the district, state and national levels.

Our Blue Ridge District Clubs continue in service by educating our club members and the community as well by promoting GFWC projects while supporting our Juniors in their endeavors with Easter Seals, Focus on Junior Health, and Advocates for Children as well as the General Clubs who join the Juniors in focusing on HOBY, Domestic Violence Awareness, Conservation and Community Beautification, Literacy, Family Health, Financial Issues and Reaching Out Internationally just to name a few.

This Blue Ridge District is very pleased to currently be in second place in Virginia in supporting our GFWC Virginia State Project which is raising funds for a new ambulance through the Virginia Tech Memorial Fund. Our GFWC Bedford Woman’s Club very generously contributed $1,500.00 from their yearly Arts & Crafts Festival earnings. The Blue Ridge District is excited as well to have just learn that the GFWC Blacksburg Junior Woman’s Club recently donated $4,000.00 to this fund which may well shoot this Blue Ridge District into first place in supporting this Virginia State Project.

We have a member who works for Appalachian Electric Power Company as well as being an active Blue Ridge District member serving not only her club but her District as well. For the second consecutive year, AEP has sent our District a donation because they reward their employees in this way for reaching out to their communities. We were able to take that money and contribute one half of it to help continue a project from last year which is the Carilion Phone Cards Program in Roanoke. We were also able to take the remaining one half of this contribution to donate to the Blue Ridge District President’s Special Project, The Achievement Center of Roanoke, Virginia.

Speaking of this BRD President’s Special Project, we are very excited to be able to reach out to The Achievement Center of Roanoke, Virginia, to offer this specialized school of learning for children with learning disabilities such as dyslexia or attention deficit disorder assistance through monetary donations and school supplies.

Our Blue Ridge District is excited to have three ladies attending the Virginia LEADS Conference in Staunton, Virginia, this year as well as another lady already getting her application ready to submit for the 2010 Virginia LEADS Conference. These ladies are sure to be up and coming “shining stars” in GFWC.

The Blue Ridge District’s newsletter, The Ridge Runner, is continuing to enjoy much success and many accolades in the new venture of sending this publication out to members as well as to other District Presidents and Virginia leaders by email. We see this new delivery method to all of those who are able to receive email as a wonderful way to use our district dollars much more efficiently through all of the money we will save monthly on postage costs. Snail mail is still available, of course, for those who prefer it.

As you can see, this Blue Ridge District is thoroughly enjoying “doing while they are being” and having lots of “dubedobedo” fun along the way. It is a wonderful pleasure to be working with such an amazing group of women who truly love reaching out to their communities, district, state and beyond in service to make our little corner of the world a better place.
The members of Lee District have found their “Home in Federation” and have been “Making a Difference One Step at a Time” by supporting GFWC and GFWC Virginia Departments and Programs and projects unique to their community’s needs.

In the Arts, clubs donated art supplies and handmade items, held student arts programs, craft classes, arts and crafts shows and literary contests, and supported the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts and the Richmond Symphony. For Conservation, clubs adopted highways, donated plants, decorated for holidays with natural materials and improved landscaping. They recycled aluminum, cell phones, eyeglasses, pop tops, and printer cartridges and reused shopping bags. To support Education, clubs gave scholarships, donated to local libraries, recognized teachers, collected Box Tops for Education and Campbell’s Labels, participated in ESO, and volunteered for the GFWC Virginia State Fair Educational Tours. They promoted Literacy through RIF, 1-2-3 Read, Books for Babies and Read Across America Day, book donations for adults and volunteering at schools.

For Home Life, clubs supported Canine Companions for Independence, Easter Seals, Habitat for Humanity, March of Dimes, Heavenly Hats, Ronald McDonald and Hospital Hospitality Houses, Christmas Mothers, Meals on Wheels, Salvation Army, Comfort Zone Camp and the VA Tech Rescue Squad Fund. They volunteered at nursing homes, food banks and clothes closets. Clubs had programs on the economic crisis, retirement planning, saving for college, insurance and identity theft. To promote Health, they had programs on yoga, exercise, stress reduction, flu, shingles and organ donation. Members participated in the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure, Relay for Life, MS Walk and Great Strides Walk for Cystic Fibrosis. They supported the American Heart Association, Alzheimer’s Association, American Diabetes Society, Free Clinics, and local hospitals.

In support of International Affairs, clubs contributed to Operation Smile, Heifer, World Food Day, CARE, GAIN, Operation Christmas Child and Friendship Force. They collected supplies for the troops, Iraqi school children and Russian orphans. Members dined out at ethnic restaurants and had meals with international themes. In the area of Public Affairs, clubs observed Veteran’s Day, donated to local veterans’ hospitals and homes, and supported troops serving abroad. They encouraged voting, said the Pledge of Allegiance, and supported community organizations. Safety was promoted by supporting local fire and rescue stations, American Red Cross, After Prom Parties, Prevent Child Abuse Virginia, and Project Lifesaver. There were programs on disaster readiness, self protection, fire safety, and home invasion prevention.

For Public Relations, clubs utilized newsletters, email, websites, profiles, Face Book, and Craig’s List and wore club apparel. Federation logos were used, and Federation Day was celebrated. Club events were advertised in local papers and on radio, and members participated in community festivals and parades. To promote Domestic Violence Awareness, clubs donated money and items to local shelters, held fundraisers and had speakers from domestic violence prevention organizations. Fundraising projects included fashion shows, card parties, auctions, gift wrap booths, catered dinners, and sale of handmade items and raffle tickets.

To develop Leadership, clubs supported HOBY, provided for members serving on the district and state levels, recognized outstanding leaders, attended Presidents Councils, held workshops, and utilized Federation materials. Clubs had speakers and distributed information on Legislation issues, served on District and State Legislation and Resolutions committees and attended the GFWC Virginia Legislation Day. Membership was encouraged by holding social functions, placing newspaper ads, and having public displays to attract new members. Secret Pal and holiday gifts were exchanged, and social events for members and spouses were held. Outstanding members were recognized, and clubs supported members in need with cards, meals and babysitting. Clubs toured the Women’s History and Resource Center, wrote club histories, kept scrapbooks, participated in the preparation of the District scrapbook and purchased copies of GFWC Virginia Histories - 1907-2007.

District events included a File Exchange/Salad Supper and a Pre-Annual Meeting/Reporting Workshop for District Officers and Chairmen and Reporting Workshops for clubs. The Fall Meeting featured a joint business session and breakfast, and the Annual Meeting included awards and installation of officers. The District Leadership Workshop had a new format with workshops, “Meet and Greet” sessions, and a Hat Parade by the District officers and chairmen. The District Arts Show was again held as stand-alone event with displays of arts, crafts and student art plus craft demonstrations and door prizes. The Executive Mansion Docent Program has been a longstanding Lee District Project. Members conduct tours and attend an annual docent training seminar. The District newsletter, Lee’s Traveller, is available in hard copy or on the District website as is the District Handbook. The District website contains all the necessary forms, and a Blog was added for discussions of membership issues.
Northern is proud to have chartered its first Juniorette Club, the GFWC Dominion Sisterhood Juniorette Club, in April 2008. These young ladies did not waste any time in assisting their club sponsor, GFWC Dominion, with many fundraising, social, and community projects. The sponsor and her daughters pictures were on the cover of GFWC Clubwoman in April and the featured article focused on clubwomen and their daughters. The Juniorettes launched their own website, www.dsjc.synthasite.com, and held a solo fundraising event for the GFWC VA State Project, VT Van, by dressing in VT colors and collecting donations at a local high school football game.

Northern Juniors although short in numbers are large in community service and financial donations. Four clubs with 76 members, completed 147 projects in 19 program areas, volunteered 4,497 hours and $124,481 in cash and in-kind donations. Juniors made donations to schools for art supplies and continued support of the Very Special Arts Programs. They painted out-barns for the Northern Virginia Therapeutic Riding Program as an innovative Conservation project. These ladies donated scholarships and supplies, tutored children, and participated in Dr. Seuss’ Birthday Reading Project. Financial programs were offered highlighting recession-proof finances and retirement tips. A car (given to one club) was hand-detiled by clubwomen and donated to a needy family. Juniors supported the District project, Azalea Charities with donations. The Advocates for Children Project was enhanced by the donation of a Snoezelen Solar Projector to a hospital pediatric ward. Communications continued with club business cards, updating of websites, newsletters and wearing of emblematic apparel. Fundraising included Casino Nights, cookbook sales, jewelry parties, selling of holiday pies, and recycling of prom gowns for teens to name a few. Participating in health walks and sponsoring Camp Easter Seals camperships led their health initiatives.

Generals of Northern continue their diversity and unification. Northern has reported over $7,000 in donations to the GFWC VA State Project – VT Van. The Leadership role in Northern was enhanced with a Leadership Workshop for club presidents and members, sponsorship of several scholarships for HOBY, and programs with HOBY Ambassadors as speakers. Acting to improve membership, six clubs in Northern increased. Unfortunately, the Fairfax County Federation and the Woman’s Club of Manassas Park were dissolved. The Williamsburg Woman’s Club of Arlington de-federated after several years of declining membership. Clubs participated in the State’s “Get in the Game” Recruiting efforts by holding potluck dinners, Bunco parties, wine tastings and fashion shows. One club used the “Just Ask” theme for inviting guests to functions. Clubs continued to Retain and Renew club interests with social events, installations, orientations, and “Member of the Year” awards. The Arts community continued to benefit from donations, contests and exhibits, community theater participation and choral groups. Knitting, stitching, quilting, and art work benefited hospitals and children’s wards, senior citizens centers, soldiers and their families, and those less fortunate. Many lap robes, sweaters, scarves, mittens and gloves were made with loving hands. Conservation Beautification was upheld with garden shows, master garden programs, clean-up campaigns, plant sales, and working with handicapped adults at a horticultural therapy center. Resources programs included recycling of paper products, medications, eye glasses, cell phones, ink cartridges, motor oil, aluminum, glass, plastic, and yard materials. Cloth bags were distributed and information provided to schools and nursing homes on nature and energy conservation ideas. Education was demonstrated by the donation of many scholarships. Certificates of Excellence for Journalism and Publications were awarded, promotion of language development, tutoring assistance for below-average children, and donations of school supplies, books, magazines, and money. Libraries were enhanced by many volunteer hours. Books were also donated to Books for Babies, homeless shelters, Head Start programs, and large print items given to senior centers. CANINE Companions for Independence, Habitat for Humanity International, Hunger in America, and March of Dimes, to name a few were recipients of benefits from the Home Life projects. “Teaching Dolls” for pediatric surgical patients, blankets, and crocheted items for children as well as lafette kits for infants were made. Volunteers manned thrift shops and worked at shelters serving meals and babysitting. Winter coats were collected, stockings were stuffed, and food collected for shelters and food banks. Seniors were remembered with gifts, ice cream socials, luncheons, books and craft supplies. A local dentist was engaged to help with free or low-cost dental care for those who could not afford care and/or did not have insurance. Club women walked in the Race for the Cure and sponsored programs on all aspects of intervention procedures.

International Affairs saw club women enjoying dinners with international guest speakers while supporting Operation Smile, Heifer International and Doctors Without Borders. Midwife kits were made and sent to Kenya through Global Health Ministries. Public Affairs Citizenship in Action reported voting and election programs, assistance at polling stations, and alliances with veterans’ hospitals. Focus in the Community area included assisting the American Red Cross Disaster Preparedness Program and sponsoring safety programs for children. Clubs donated everything from clothing to personal items to cleaning supplies for the Domestic Violence Program. A postcard campaign to the U.S. Congress was engaged concerning Global Warming. Several clubs donated time and effort to the Women’s History and Resource Center Program by updating their histories and having them catalogued in local museums and libraries. Many clubwomen visited GFWC Headquarters for special events and the Christmas Open House. Several of Northern’s clubwomen are docents for the GFWC Headquarters events. Fundraising projects and programs completed by Northern included silent auctions, White House ornament sales, cookbooks, fresh Christmas arrangements, fashion shows, raffles, and a Santa Land project. Dine-to-Done programs were held in cooperation with local restaurants to support the VT Van State Project. It has been a privilege to work with these dedicated, hard-working, community-concerned club women.
In the Shenandoah District, our Hummingbirds went into flight in all directions, excelling in love and service, giving to the communities through the activities and projects of the various Clubs.

In the field of Art, Clubs held Art/Craft shows for their members including Student Art from local schools. Some clubs sponsored club and student writing contests. Grants were given to the Art and Photography Dept. of a local high school One Club gave two art scholarships. Several clubs support the Children’s Art Network and some clubs have art supply showers for schools. Clubs attend cultural events and often have programs by artists, authors, and musicians. One club hosted the annual Fall Foliage Festival Art show for two days, with assistance from the High School Art Department. Stuarts Draft W.C. made crafts during the year for auctioning at their Annual Christmas Dinner, prepared by them, with 50 guests attending.

All Clubs are involved with recycling, beautifying communities, planting bedding plants and maintaining flower beds in public areas and nursing homes. Six clubs subscribed to “Kids and Kindness or “Kind News” for classrooms. Six clubs recycled tabs from soda cans for Ronald McDonald Houses.

Home life receives the most attention. The W. C. of Madison County is providing assistance to three Area Food Banks allocating a total of $1,500 to help needy families. The W. C. of Greene County operates the Emergency Food Bank in partnership with Social Services. Ten other clubs donated to their local Food Bank. Waynesboro WC continues to expand their “Vial of Life” program with Corporate Sponsors. Other programs receiving support from Clubs are Hospice, Angel Tree, Habitat for Humanity, Free Clinics, Bloodmobiles, Cancer Relay -for-Life, Special Olympics, Rescue Squads, Fire Departments, Salvation Army, Alzheimer’s Assoc. and others. One Club operates a clothes closet weekly, having served 1,134 individuals. The Harrisonburg Juniors held a “Charity Classic Golf Tournament” followed by a reception and an auction making a net profit of $7,000, given to the Rockingham Memorial Hospital Foundation “Cancer Center Indigent Care Fund”. This donation is the first installment of a $25,000 Endowment Fund for the Cancer Center that the Juniors are funding. Nursing homes and caring for the elderly was a priority for nine clubs.

A high priority for our Clubs is Education. A total of 14 scholarships were given, amounting to $12,950. Waynesboro Woman’s Club gave a $6,000 scholarship. Weyers Cave W.C. gave a $200 grant to a local Elementary School to finance playground equipment. Children’s books were placed at Laundromats, Hospitals and Radiologist Reception Areas. Other book donations were made to libraries. Buena Vista Juniors made donations to four area schools to support their Libraries and another donation was given to purchase calculators to 6th graders Math programs.

Lexington WC hosted a dinner for 75 international students for two high schools and their host families. Wayland WC completed 50 bags for “Operation Smile”, valued at $12.50 each, for children undergoing surgery. They donated an additional $250. Southwestern District has fourteen general and two junior clubs who are busy providing service to improve our community and state.

Clubs promote education through tutoring, providing scholarships, supporting libraries, collecting educational labels and box tops, donating books and helping raise money for school programs.

Arts program is a favorite for all clubs. They have sponsored art workshops, arts and crafts shows, and participate in local festivals. Volunteered to work on restorations of historical homes and provided paint for murals to a show pictorial history of community.

Members show love and compassion by providing Meals on Wheels to the elderly and others who are unable to provide for themselves. Buying food, clothes and toys for needy families at Christmas. Participated in health programs such as raising money for Relay for Life and RAM – Rural Area Medical project. Transported many adults and children to doctor and dental appointments, eye and physical examinations.

Assisted in blood drives and arranged programs for breasts cancer awareness.

Clubs celebrate Earth Day by encouraging community and county-wide clean-up projects and litter control, re-use and re-cycle programs. Also, planting trees, shrubs, and flowers which not only beautifies but conserves. Master gardeners have been invited to provide information on water and conservation to club members.

Many club members show strong leadership abilities by holding positions on the club, district and state levels. Serving on executive boards and local town councils. Attends district and state meetings.

A variety of fund-raisers have earned the members a nickname of “go getters”. They have sold apple-butter, calendars, wrapping paper, nuts, sponsored “breakfast for two”, “breakfast with Santa”, played bingo and other card games to provide a free health clinic with supplies.

Clubs have lobbied the members of the General Assembly on pertinent issues, invited legislators to speak at club meetings, encourage “get out and vote” campaign, provided transportation to polls for those who cannot drive, provided lunch for workers at the polls.

Members take advantage of every opportunity to recruit new members, talking about club work, inviting ladies to attend a meeting or other events sponsored by club, handing out brochures with information about the General Federation of Woman’s Club.

International Affairs are encouraged through several projects: operation smile, Heifer International gives a gift of livestock, pigs, or chickens to provide a family with food. Donations are made to UNICEF, World Hunger, and CARE. One club donates to a shelter for abused women to provide classes to improve their skills to find jobs.

Clubs advertise their activities and events through radio, local TV channels and newspapers, to keep the community informed of their work.
 Clubs in Tidewater were extremely busy in 2008. Clubs had house tours, craft and quilt shows, special luncheons or teas, bake sales, yard sales, and presented plays. One Club presented a patriotic “Ladies of Liberty” float in their cities July 4th Parade; another had a white elephant auction to support scholarships. Monetary donations were made to various musical organizations, museums, festivals, and schools. The Arts and Crafts contest was supported as well as the Writing Contest. Clubs had “make it and take it” craft parties. Members donated money, bulbs, trees, roots from flowering plants, and recycled many things including cell phones and ink cartridges. “Planting Pride in our Community” was a program one Club held with their community. They cleaned up the street, planted annuals and perennials and placed a bench for walkers. Newspapers, blankets and rugs were donated to the Humane Society and plastic bags to Libraries for rainy days. Funds to support scholarships were raised by assorted projects that included plant sales, fashion show/luncheons, house tours, and auctioning a “Grandmother Basket”. Programs included “Picture Your Financial Future”, and “SPARK – Shore People Advancing Readiness for Knowledge” (a family program, in English & Spanish, of 3-4 year olds where they can participate in language enrichment programs). Gifts were furnished to women patients at the Eastern State Hospital. Club programs included preventive measures for assorted health related fields - breast cancer, osteoporosis, strokes and diabetes name just a few. Heifer International was supported by the purchase of goats, chickens and rabbits. Operation Smile was supported with volunteer hours, coloring books, and monetary donations. There were dolls made for migrant workers on the Eastern Shore of Virginia. Clubs supported Samaritan Purse Missions or Operation ShoeBox. One Club had a speaker from the Attorney General’s Office give a program on Identity Theft. Clubs sold nuts, crafts, calendars, stew, candles, plants, holiday greens, Easter eggs, wrapping paper, pumpkins, cake and bake sales, ornaments, yearbook ads, beer and wine coolers, Entertainment books, Innisbrook Wrap and boxed lunches. Club projects included changing their Club Bylaws, writing to their congressmen, and to go on line to support legislation. Special projects are maintained to allow the Club to pay registration, meals, and accommodations for those attending District and State meetings. In an effort to recruit new members, Clubs held socials, International dinners and Art Groups. Clubs prepared and distributed flyers to homes, preschools and churches throughout the community, advertised in the local paper and had profiles and applications at Club events and fundraisers. Many Clubs have a way of showing appreciation to an outstanding Member by having a “Member of the Year” or “Clubwoman of the Year” award. There are also Leadership, Membership and Outstanding New Members of the Year. Clubs are now reporting the use of Web sites as a new means of PR. Websites are being used along with newspaper advertising, profiles, sign-up sheets and flyers. In support of Advocates for Children, one Club held a spaghetti dinner benefiting CASA, stuffed animals were donated to Bears on Patrol, members volunteered at Ident-A-Kid and a jewelry raffle was held. Clubs also supported the President’s Project-Domestic Violence with monetary donations to battered women’s shelters as well as donations of books and clothing.

The ladies in Virginia not only love to read but they love to help other people read as well. There were clubs that sponsor their own reading clubs and some that sponsored a reading contest either in a school or a local library. There was one club that even took dogs for children to read to since the dogs would listen without comment. There were lots of book signings as well as tutors assisting those from other countries learn to speak English. This type of tutoring is needed more than ever and those learning are so appreciative. With budget cuts affecting every avenue in our lives – it is our volunteers in Education that will help to keep the roads to learning open.

Best Overall – Large Club – GFWC Floyd County Woman’s Club – Blue Ridge District
This club sponsored the “Reading in Floyd is Fun” RIPP in lieu of the RIF program in previous years. The club looked into sponsoring own reading program and were granted the ability to buy books at the same rates as the RIF program. They have broadened their circle to include other volunteer organizations and collectively read to the children and distribute books to over 1,500 children. They have sponsored a girl for Girl’s State as well as donated books to the needy at Christmas.

Best Overall – Small Club – GFWC Bent Mountain Woman’s Club – Blue Ridge District
This club donated 175 books to the local hospital and sponsored “Read Across America” at the local library. With each book read – the reader received a ticket and a drawing was held for the prizes. There were a recorded 1,593 books checked out for a population of only 2,200. They sponsored a “Cat in the Hat” celebration at the library complete with a stand up figure to help the children be more attentive. GFWC bookplates were used in all of the donated books as well.

GFWC VIRGINIA STATE PROJECT – Virginia Tech Memorial Fund
Kathryn Sowers, Chairman

General Federation of Women’s Clubs Virginia is raising $172,000 to buy a new, fully-equipped Traumahawk Advanced Life Support Ambulance for the VT Rescue Squad. Our goal for this Special two year State project is 3 x $10 per member by 2010. For each member who reaches her goal of $30, we are presenting a special State Project pin to wear proudly for everyone to know that you are Passing It On - an Act of Kindness.

Let us remember that this project was initiated after April 16th and this is our way of honoring and remembering the victims and their families. In this small way, we will be giving a memorial that will continue to give and help others. What better way to honor all youth and bring hope and encouragement to the future.

Certificates were presented to clubs at Convention for reaching the goal of 100% of their members contributing the $30 per member. Below is a list of clubs as of March 31st that have reached that goal (based on funds received at state headquarters). Thanks for your support and let’s keep it going. We can do it!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

GFWC Virginia Junior Club of the Year –
GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell, Inc., Southside District
This junior club exemplified all aspects of the award criteria for 2008. In the area of membership, the club experienced a net increase with very little turnover and supported the members through communications and coordinating assistance in times of need. The club managed the leadership side of equation through leadership development and training by using tools provided by GFWC and those that have evolved within the club over time. The club provides monetary support for its members who attend District, State, and GFWC meetings and encourages participation in leadership roles at levels beyond the club. Leadership messages are reinforced through quotes and articles in the monthly newsletter.

SPECIAL JUNIOR AWARDS

CORINNE MURRAY AWARD
Large Club - South Boston-Halifax Junior Woman’s Club - GFNC
Instilling a life-long love of reading is the goal of the Girls Rock! Book Club. Twenty five girls in grades 6-8 meet monthly to share their thoughts and opinions about the book selection and how it relates to their own life experience. The honesty and frankness of the conversations are refreshing and the girls seem to not only enjoy, but look forward to sharing their ideas and voicing their opinion.

Small Club - Thomas Jefferson Junior Woman’s Club
This club has coordinated a Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) program at area schools for 31 years. In 2008 2,032 books were distributed to a local elementary school where 47% of the students are from low-income households or considered at risk. The theme was “Reading Will Take You Many Places”. The excitement and motivation exhibited by the children demonstrates that RIF is enabling the club to increase the literacy to a large number of young people.

MARGARET ALLEN THOMAS LEADERSHIP AWARD
Large Club – Junior Woman’s Club of Williamsburg – Tidewater District
The Junior Woman’s Club of Williamsburg was selected as the recipient of this award based on their encouragement of members to take an active leadership role as board members, department chairs, or project chairs. They held a Joint Board Meeting to facilitate the exchange of duties from the previous board member to the incoming board member. Additionally, this club has promoted their club’s participation and service at District and State meetings by allocating funds to cover the costs of members who wish to attend.

Small Club – GFNC Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell - Southside District
The Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell was selected for this award based the various programs which focus on leadership by all club members, as well as their utilization of the GFNC Leadership Toolkit. They created a Leadership Honor Society, whereby each member is encouraged to climb a Leadership Ladder, and they featured leadership articles in their monthly newsletter. This club also held officer orientation meetings and workshops in order to ensure a smooth transition of duties to the next officer. Additionally, during 2008, their club’s service at the District level, and their participation at all levels of Federation is impressive.
MARJORIE BRANCH AWARD

Large Club – Junior Woman’s Club of Loudoun – Northern District
This club designed informal membership events like a “vacation” during the summer to a members home for an evening of “S’mores”, or a Friday night Happy Hour; held bi-annual dinners which included member recognition; appointed a Sunshine chair to help the 2nd VP recognize and support members during different times of their lives: birthdays, illness, births and deaths; and honored departing club members with letters of appreciation for their service and a reminder that the “door is always open”

Small Club – GFWC Amherst Junior Woman’s Club – Alice Kyle District
This club continued its support of a member and her children that were going through a very difficult time in their lives. Each month the club did something to make this member feel loved and included by this group of ladies, from meals, Valentines, Easter baskets, a Mother’s Day outing to the nail spa, a play date for her children (and a free afternoon for her) to Christmas gifts. This club also celebrated births with two members by bringing meals over a three week period.

PHYLISS V. ROBERTS AWARD
The Phyllis V. Roberts award goes to both a GFWC VA Junior large and small club, in recognition of the clubs interaction (cooperative efforts in programs, fundraisers, meetings, projects, etc.) with a General club or clubs. This year’s winners are:

Large Club – Junior Woman’s Club of Williamsburg – Tidewater District
In support of its largest fundraiser, this club worked with a local General club to have the Generals provide vital services for the event. This enabled the event to be a success but also enabled the General club to generate revenue as well. A win-win situation for both clubs. In honor of their successful partnering, I am pleased to present the Junior Woman’s Club of Williamsburg the Phyllis V. Roberts award for large clubs.

Small Club – GFWC Amherst Junior Woman’s Club – Alice Kyle District
Like so many other small clubs, this club faced several challenges. To ensure success, they partnered with a local General club on multiple occasions. This afforded them the ability to reach out to the community through booths at multiple fall festivals and with walk teams. With their spirit of cooperation in mind, I am pleased to present to the Phyliss V. Roberts award for small clubs to the GFWC Amherst Junior Woman’s Club.

SHELBY PAISLEY HAMLETT AWARD

GFWC Franklin Junior Woman’s Club – Southside District
The Franklin Junior Woman’s Club co-sponsored a free Day in the Park Event open to all children and their families. The primary focus was to educate children in a fun way on a variety of topics that would teach them about the importance of their community and how they can play an important role in educating themselves and others. Educational topics included: literacy, fire safety, child safety, exercise, environmental conservation, dental hygiene, art and creativity. Members spent three hundred forty two (342) hours on this project.

SHENANDOAH DISTRICT AWARD

Large Club – GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Franklin – Southside District
This club of 32 members reached out with flyers to approximately 26,000 citizens in their community on Adolescent safety. They participated in a Safe Day at the park, and a Domestic Dinner and Walk. There was a total of 667 hours planning and participating in these events. The Franklin Fire and Police Department’s were on site demonstrating the Family Safety House and having Identity kits for children. Also, children were educated on gun safety.

Small Club – GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Waynesboro - Shenandoah District
This club of 9 members reached out to Adolescents in their community by working with the school board, elementary schools, and the Fire Department to hold art contests. They met, reviewed and selected a 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th place winners and an overall grand prizewinner. Artwork is displayed during Open House at the Waynesboro Fire Department for viewing and during this event, the Fire Fighters educate the children on Fire Safety. Winners received awards and the Grand Prize winner rode with Santa during the Christmas Parade on the fire truck.
SOUTHSIDE DISTRICT JUNIOR AWARD IN LEGISLATION

GFWC Junior Woman’s Club of Hopewell – Southside District
Members were educated through the club newsletter and at meetings about the Virginia Legislation, the Violence Against Women Act, the Lily Ledbetter Fair Pay Act, GFWC’s LegNet, and the legislative issues advocated by the GFWC. Members attended the Virginia Legislative Rally in Richmond, took a quiz about the Virginia General Assembly, and had a civics test about our country’s history, our government and the legislative process. Club members were educated about the presidential and local candidates for the 2008 elections and delivered snacks to poll workers in the city. Children were taken to vote in a mock presidential election where they were served popcorn and watched a cartoon about the election process.

THOMAS JEFFERSON HEALTH AWARD

Large Club - GFWC Franklin Junior Woman’s Club – Southside District
This club devoted 565 hours and over $5,900 to 7 domestic violence projects. The club was very hands-on and visible in the community planning and executing numerous events and handing out educational flyers. They partnered with local entities to host and work several large community educational and fundraising events. They distributed domestic violence flyers to doctors’ offices, social services and churches for adults and teens. This club also handed out domestic violence information at a district meeting.

Small Club - GFWC Amherst Junior Woman’s Club – Alice Kyle District
This club donated $3,900 to a variety of health issues. They are a big participant of the Relay for Life benefiting the American Cancer Society. This club also spends time visiting nursing homes and purchases Christmas presents for residents without families. By partnering with a local church, they provided gifts, including four winter coats, to 14 patients. This club sponsored school-aged children in a local Jump Rope for Heart event. This club also educates its members on woman’s health issues throughout the year.

WESTHAMPTON AWARD IN EDUCATION

Large Club - GFWC Franklin Junior Woman’s Club – Southside District
The Franklin club spent 2,137 volunteer hours and $3,150 on Education projects. The largest project they coordinated was the free Day in the Park event that was open to all children and their families for their community. The activities focused on resource conservation, literacy and reading, fire safety, child safety and the arts. The club did several things that promoted youth literacy and continues to encourage our youth to be ambassadors for creating a productive community.

Small Club – Thomas Jefferson Junior Woman’s Club – Lee District
The Thomas Jefferson club has created a RIF program (Reading Is Fundamental) at Richmond area schools for the last 31 years. The club is currently serving a local elementary school with a population of 480 students where 47% of the student population is low-income or at-risk. This club distributed over 2,000 books to the school library as well as handed out books to the students that they could keep for their own. This is such an important project and continues to promote literacy within our youth.

Congratulations!
